

Sample Yearly Calendar for a Boy Scout troop

- The most important thing in Boy Scouts is that it's planned and executed by the Scouts with adult help. Reserve a few hours in late summer for annual planning, then hold a patrol leaders' council once a month. This can take the place of one troop meeting.
- Your youth leaders will be responsible for choosing a theme for each month. This might be a skill like orienteering or survival, or a fun topic like Star Wars. Scouts can get creative to plan advancement and activities around the theme.
- Successful troops hold a hike, a campout, and a service project almost every month. These can be combined, for example with a backpacking trip where you do trail maintenance or other service.
- Make sure the Scoutmaster and assistants can attend monthly Roundtable—a fun training and networking meeting for leaders. Schedule for all 6 locations is at scoutinghawaii.org/calendar
